after 7 o'clock this evening, informa tion confirmatory of the Asosciated Press dispatches concerning the bombardment' of the fortifications of Santlago reached the Navy Department. It came in the form of a cablegram from Admiral Sampson, which was made public in the following bulletin "Secretary of the Navy: Bombarded forts at Santiago, 7:30 to 10 a.m., today, June 6. Silenced works quickly without injury of any kind, though within 2000 yards.

"SAMPSON." [Signed] While the officials of the Navy Department declined to say definitely whether the bulletin contained all the information given in Admiral Sampson's cablegram, there is reason to believe that it did not. The officials refused to discuss the subject, or to vouchsafe further information than was posted on the bulletin board.

Only one additional point was elicited by questioning. That was that the cablegram contained no information about the landing of either land forces or marines.

The information received from Admiral Sampson was evidently quite satisfactory to the naval authorities. While they declined to discuss eithe the reasons for or the probable conse quences of the bombardment, they were thoroughly satisfied with the results accomplished. It is pretty well understood that the bombardment was for the purpose of paving the way either for the landing of troops merely to cover the landing of marines

Dispatches received by the Associated Press from Spanish sources to night indicate that a landing was effected either during or immediately after the bombardment. This is regarded by naval authorities as entirely reasonable.

It is deemed likely landed a sufficient force of marines hold the ground he had gained, and to. make preparations for the landing of the regular forces upon their arrival if, indeed, some of them are not already at hand.

United American Squadron Destroy Two Santiago Batteries.
[A. P. DAY REPORT. COPYRIGHT, 1898.]

ON BOARD THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH BOAT DANDY, off Santiago de Cuba, Monday (noon,) via Kingston, Jamaica, Tuesday, June 7, noon .- The American fleet this morning engaged the Spanish batteries defending the entrance of the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, and after a three-hours' bombardment, sinearly all the forts, destroyed several earthworks, and rendered the Estrella and Cave batteries, the two principal fortifications, useless.

The fleet formed in double column, six miles off Moro Castle at 6 o'clock in the morning and steamed slowly three thousand yards off shore Brooklyn leading, followed by the Marblehead, Texas, and Massachu setts, and turned westward. blehead.

The second line, the New York lead. ng, with the New Orleans, Yankee, Iowa and Oregon following, turned eastward. The Vixen and Suwanee were far out on the left flank watching the riflemen on shore. The Dolphin and Porter did similar duty on the right flank. The line, headed by the New York, attacked the new earthworks near Moro Castle. The Brooklyn column took up a station opposite the Estrella and Catalina batteries, and the new earthworks along the

The Spanish batteries remained silent. It is doubtful whether the Spaniards were able to determine the character of the movement, owing to the dense fog and heavy rain, which were the weather features this morning shot, which struck the base of the Estrella battery and tore up the works Instantly firing began from both Ad-Schley's columns, and a torrent of WASHINGTON, June 7 .- Shortly shells from the ships fell upon the Spanish works. The Spaniards re plied promptly, but their artillery work was of a very poor quality and most of their shots went wide. Smoke set-> rendering accurate firing difficult. There was no maneuvering of the fleet, the ships remaining at their original station and firing steadily. The squadrons were so close in shore that it was difficult for the American gunners to reach the batteries on the hilltops, but their firing was excellent. Previous to the bombardment orders were issued to prevent firing on Moro Castle as the American admiral had been informed that Lieut. Hobson and the other prisoners of the Merrimac are confined there In spite of this, however, several stray shots damaged Moro Castle somewhat Schley's line closer in shore, firing at shorter range. The Brooklyn and Texas caused wild havoc among the Spanish shore batteries, quickly silencing them. While the larger ships were engaging the heavy batteries, the Swanee and the closed with the small inshore battery opposite them, rained rapidfire shots upon it, and quickly placed the battery out onf the fight.

The Brooklyn closed to 800 yards, and then the destruction caused by her guns and those of the Marblehead and Texas was really seen. The work of the Estrella fort was burning and the battery was silenced, firing no more luring the engagement. Eastward, the New York and New Orleans silenced Cave battery in quick order and then shelled the earthworks located nigher up. Later, the practice was no so accurate, owing to the elevation of the guns. Many of the shells, however landed, and the Spanish gunners re tired.

Shortly after the firing ceased the warships turned in order to permit the use of the port batteries, and the firing then became a long reverberating crash of thunder, and the shells raked the Spanish batteries with terrible effect Fire broke out in Catalina fort and slienced the Spanish guns. The firing of the fleet continued till 1 o'clock, when the Spanish ceased firing entirely, and Admiral Sampson hoisted the "ceas firing" signal. Generally the fire of the fleet was very destructive, many of the earthworks were knocked to pieces and the Estrella and Catalina fortifications were so damaged that it is questionable whether they ever will be able to re new any effective work during the war. After the fleet retired the Spaniards returned to some of the guns and sent one was injured. One large shell fell close to the collier Justin. Throughout the entire engagement no American ship was hurt, and no American was injured. The Spaniards stuck to their guns, and all evidence to the contrary, their loss must have been heavy ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

Heavy canonading was opened upon Aguadores at about midday yesterday.

The latest advices received here from Spanish sources do not indicate the duration of the fire, or whether American troops and slege guns were actually landed at Aguardores, but from the information obtainable it cannot be doubted that the net result of the Mon-day's fighting was extremely disastrous to the Spanish defences.

It is also understood here that the Cuban troops maintained througho greater part of yesterday, an attack by land upon Santiago and the Spanish reports say the garrison lost heavily in

The Spaniards acknowledge that a great deal of damage was inflicted on the Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes and they say Moro Castle shows great gap-ing breaches in its walls. Later in the day, it appears, a landing of American troops was effected near Dalquiri, some distance east of Aguadores and near the rallroad station connecting with Santiago de Cuba.

Later an engagement took place between the American force and a column of Spanish troops which had been sent against the landing party. The ac-counts of the battle obtainable here being from Spanish sources do not set forth the result, and therefore it is to be inferred that the Americans were victorious, and that is the belief which Sampson's Work Discussed by the Washington People.

He Has Ample Power to Do What He Deems Fit.

aval Officials Do not Believe That Any Important Landing Has Been Effected-Forces Delayed by Delayed Supplies.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WASHINGTON, June 7 .- Starting out with a strong belief that there had been othing in the nature of a serious engagement between Sampson's forces and the Spanish defenses at Santiago, the Navy Department officials, as the day wore on and the full and detailed reports of the Associated Press from ts correspondents with the fleet began to flow in, were compelled to modfy their view, and when the day closed they were about ready to admit that although without official information on the subject, it was evident that Sampson had made a strong attack upon the Spanish force. The one point upon which they maintained their confidence was that no troops had been landed. They were be clearing the way with is big guns for the landing of the troops, or that possibly some marines had been lander temporarily, but that forces had been put ashore they would not admit, for the reason that no information had reached the War Department of the actual departure of the soldiers from the gulf ports for Cuba.

It is not denied, however, that every fort is making to put the troops into Cuba at the earliest possible moment, and this afternoon, it is believed, al-though no official advices to that effect were at hand, that the troops have actually been ambarking at Tampa today, and may get away tonight. The reason for this belief is found in the admission by officials that the troops have been under orders to embark for some time past. The difficulty that presented itself was the absence of absolutely necessary supplies, which in nost cases were stored away in some of the thousands of freight cars which blocked the railroad tracks many miles out of Tampa. The orders that went forward yesterday were of a character to cause a speedy breaking of the deadlock, and if the troops now have their supplies, which is believed to be the case, there is no reason why they hould not sail at once for Santiago. By the newspaper reports of the reach Sampson has made in the coast defenses at Santiago, there is every reason to believe that little will be found in the actual debarkaion of the troops, particularly if ma rines are already ashore to guard the landing.

A suspicion is entertained in some quarters that Sampson was hastened in his movements at Santiago by the news of the intended departure of the troop. from Tampa, and made his attack in order that the navy might have the nonor of effecting the occupation of Cuban soil. It is likely that the first roops of the regular army to take up position ashore will be the engineer battalion, although they are so badly hampered by the heavy siege trains they carry that they must be greatly delayed in making a landing. guns by the way, have given infinite rouble, for the transports that were hastily chartered were so lightly constructed as to require a great deal of strengthening before the great masses of steel could be safely placed on them. The extent of Sampson's attack or the Santiago defenses have brough out one fact very clearly, namely, that he has practically unlimited power as to the time and character of an attack, and that he is unhampered by restrictions from Washington. The exact na ture of his orders have never been made public, but a naval official in a position o know what they are, said that Adniral Sampson had greater power conferred upon him than had ever beer him to decide on the time for an attack and the place and manner of its execution. He may attack before roops arrive or, in his discretion, may act without cooperation of troops. Or if circumstances warrant, he may re frain from any operations. In short, it is said that Admiral Sampson is complete master of the tactical and strate gie operations by the naval forces off Santiago.

This is in line with the policy approved by the highest naval authorities. Capt. Mahan, a member of the War Board, brings out in his standard work on "Sea Power" that it is for the navel commander-in-chief to organize and direct his offensive or defensive operations. The cruiser Buffalo, lately the Nictheroy of the Brazilian navy, arrived in Hampton Roads today directly from Brazil. The vessel, it is learned is not yet actually on the United States naval lists. She has been acquired subject to conditions that will doubtless strictly fulfilled by the Brazilian government, but which have not been met. They are that the ship must be turned over in good condition as to hull and machinery. The ordnance will be supplied by the United States government in the shape of 10 inch guns, now ready to put in the ship. The machinery of the Buffale is known to be in bad shape, but just to what extent is not known here. The ship will be inspected by a naval board when she is ready for delivery to the government: Meanwhile the work of putting her in condition will go on at once at Newbort News. The Buffalo was not obliged, like the Oregon, to make a detour in reaching a home port in order to avoid a possible enemy, because, being manned by a Brazilian crew and not yet the property of the United States, she was not subject to

The peace negotiations after the wa of 1812 were more formal in character. After the war began President Mad-lson took the first step toward restoring peace, and in a message t Congress on November 4, 1812, he said:
"Anxious to bridge the evils from which a state of war cannot be exempt, I lost no time after it had been declared in conveying to the British government terms on which its progress might be assisted."

The terms proposed by Madison were that Great Britain vacate the orders in council on blockades and on the impressment of American seamen. The

"Your first duty will be to conclude peace with Great Britain." The terms of peace were the same as Madison had previously specified. but these were not indispensable con

Great Britain declined the overture however, and Lord Castlereah wrote to the State Department suggesting direct negotiations. Accordingly, Henry Clay and Jonathan Russell were added to the peace commission, receiv-ing new instructions January 28, 1814. British commissioners were appointed and the commission met at Ghent. These terms were rejected by Mexico. Thereupon the United States recalled Trist. This caused much agitation in Mexico, for it was feared the United States would adopt very aggressive steps. Trist had not acted on the recall, but remained in Mexico. He succeeded, as a result of the change in the feeling in making a treaty of peace, known as the treaty of Guadalupe Hidaigo, on February 4, 1848.

At the close of the civil war, there were no peace negotiations or treaty in the usual-sense. Being a rebellion, the Federal Government recognized no power with which it could make a es or agreement.

The precedent of Franklin's informal The precedent of Franklin's informal peace overtures suggest that that if Spain is unable to secure the mediation of the European powers she might enlist the service of some friend, who, in an individual capacity, could take the initiative as Franklin did. That of 1812 suggests that formal peace overtures are to be made through commissioners, duly instructed on the terms they can grant. If the precedent of the Mexican war were folowed, then one of the officials of Spain's Foreign Office could come to Washington and make personal overtures toward peace. The precedents show that there is no fixed procedure under international law toward a restoration of peace, and that the form adopted is dictated mainly by expediency and a desire to avoid the undue humiliation of the vanquished party.

A SUMMER CAMPAIGN.

No Time to Be Wasted in Taking TASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.1

NEW YORK, June 7 .- Summer has set in in earnest, with a more fervent heat in Florida and Cuba than in Washington, but summer weather is not to be wasted by the administra-tion in siestas, says the Washington correspondent of the Times. The Spanish forces in Cuba may have found it comfortable and consistent with the policy of prolonging the war to drop war when summer came on, and they may be inclined to continue their old habits, but if they expect to do sb, the administration will create a very different impression before the summer is over. After a brief experience of After a brief experience of cummer camping with men hoping for active operations, only to remain in hot camps, to think over cumors of activities soon to come, the President thinks there will be less danger to the troops with occupation, even though they be in Cuba or Porto Rico, than there would be in camps remote from the scene of war and in mere schools for drilling.

schools for drilling.

It has come to be the opinion of medical men of sound experience and judgment of climatic risks that the army will be quite as well off during the summer where they can reach the enemy and keep him from going to sleep too frequently, as they would be trying on the sands of Tampa Bay or wasting away with ennul in the cambs.

or wasting away with ennul in the camps.

The determination to make the camps.

The determination to make the cam and the beginning to the end is being carried out as well as possible. There are some drawbacks, among them being the sluggish response of some of the bureaus of the War Department. Some of the old men in the Quartermaster-General's office, the Commissary General's department and other branches have been running this as it has been run for thirty years, insisting that the red tape that is well in time of peace must be made to work in time of war. Under vigorous direction this red tape could be dispensed with or stretched to answer, but that vigor can never be developed in subordinates while there is a lack of it at the head. No one knows this better than the President, and he ought to be able to find it out if he does not know it now, and also to find a remedy for it.

All plans for the occupation of Porto Rico are kept very secret in the War Department. Just who has made them is not ascertained, but the assumption is that the best suggestions have been made by the careful mind of Gen. Schofield, Gen. Miles being occupied very fully with the direction of routine business and oncy having time to consider plans with the purpose of carrying them out.

At the base of Moro Castle are several guns loaded with shrapnel to sweep the face of the water, and opposite is a similar battery. Going around the first curve of the narrow entrance, Cayo Smith, an island, is found facing down the harbor, with a battery of modern guns. In the narrow neck of the passage are three rows of mines, each fifty feet apart and the mines, sixteen in a row, each six feet apart. The Reina Mercedes lies in the shadow of Cayo Smith, partly dismantled, but having her four torpedo tubes loaded and facing down the channel. About half way up the channel, on the eastern bank, is the Estrella battery, with several small smooth-bore guns, and this was the menacing hole of death into which Lieut. Hobson and his men ventured with the Merrimae.

LONDON, June 8.—The London morning papers are inclined to doubt the account of the destruction and silencing of the forts at Santiago, but they believe the bombardment was intended to draw the Spaniards' attention from a landing somewhere, and that the coming week or two will see exciting events in Cuba.

The sinking of the Reina Mercedes is regarded as probable, for it is known that her boilers were defective and that she had no armored deck. The wounding or death of Col. Ordonez means a serious loss to Spain, he being or having been her artillery expert, with a European reputation, and the designer ng been her artillery expert, European reputation, and the European reputation, and the designer of the ordnatice bearing his name. ### BATTLE OF MANILA

BELGIC BRINGS OFFICERS WHO TOOK PART.

Col. G. A. Loud, Paymaster of th Great Fight.

TRIBUTE TO SPANISH VALOR.

HE SAYS THEIR BAD MARKSMAN SHIP WAS OUR SALVATION.

Dr. Kindleberger and Gunner Evan also Describe the Action-Aguinalde Planning a Republic.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—There is an interesting party of travelers on the Belgic. It is made up of not less than four of Uncle Sam's officers who took part-in the great fight in Manila Bay Col. G. A. Loud, paymaster of the dis boat McCulloch; Dr. Charles P. Kindleberger, surgeon of the Olympia, Ralph Phelps, private secretary to the captain of the McSulloch; J. C. Evans, runner of the Boston.

Messrs. Loud, Kindleberger and Evans came direct from Manila. They left the scene of the battle on the Mc-Culloch on the morning of May 5, and it was that trip of the little steamer that brought the first American reports of the fight. Mr. Phelps was in Hongkong. He remained over there in charge of important business matters of the captain's.

Dr. Kindleberger and Gunner Evans are going home on account of the exof their sea time. They are now, under the rules, expected to perform shore duty for three years, but both will endeavor to go back to the sea again at once. Col. Loud and Mr. Phelps are merely going on business, and will return to the McCulloch.

These men, as may be expected, from the important parts they took in the Manila fight, have each very interesting stories to tell. They speak, first of all, however, of the valor and determination of their opponents. They say that the Spaniardis fought bravely even after the last vestige of hope was gone and stayed by their guns as long as they could be used at all.

Mr. Loud, who was on the McCulloch during the battle, was a witness of events on both sides. From his position he could see every movement the American ships, and could also see the battle plans of the Spaniards.

"For two hours," says Mr. Loud, "the steady thunder of cannon was kept up. The roar was something terrible. A terrific fire was kept up from the forts It looked to us from the McCulloch that our vessels could not possibly survive the awful fusillade. Heavy shells and solid shot fell around them like hail from the clouds, and many exploded immediately over the ships.

"At one time, I really thought we would be beaten. This was after the fire had been kept up for an hour. It looked as if every gun on the Spanish ships had turned loose on us all together, and the shore line was a veritable blaze of fire from the batteries. The din was simply indescribable Tons upon tons of shot fell over our ships. Yes, there was steel enough have sunk our entire fleet.

"Our salvation was the bad marks manship of the Spaniards. They handled their pieces like boys. Nearly all of their shot went wide of the mark. Most were high, flying over the fleet and falling into the bay beyond. ne of the batteries, however, were better trained. Several guns maintained a raking fire on the fleet. TERRIFIC EXECUTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.-Dr. Kin dleberger, who has arrived here on the steamer Beigic, gives a graphic account of the terrific fight at Manila. He was on the Olympia through it all. In the first assault the flagship took the lead, the other vessels following in her wake the other vessels following in her wake the four ships' lengths. The Spanish det was approached by laps, each turn ornging the contestants nearer to-rether. By this plan, the American essels frequently poured broadsides in-to the enemy, but were themselvs more aposed to the fire. posed to the fire.
At one time the smoke become so dense that it was necessary to draw aside, allowing the cloud to lift. The vessels were examined, and it was discovered that they had sustained no damage. Breakfast was served to the men and in a few minutes they reentered the fire with the greatest enthusiasm. The second fire was even more flerce than the first. It was in that that the Ballimore was struck.

tered the fire with the greatest enthusiasm. The second fire was even more fierce than the first. It was in that that the Baltimore was struck.

During the first fire the Spanish admiral's ship steamed bravely out to meet the Olympia. The entire American fleet concentrated fire on her, and she was so badly injured that she turned around to put back. At this juncture the Olympia let fly an 8-inch shell which struck her stern and pierced through almost her entire length, exploding finally in the engine-room, wrecking her machinery. This shell killed the captain and sixty men and set the vessel on fire. The Spanish admiral immediately transferred his flag to the cruiser Isla de Cuba. Several smaller vessels of the American fleet, led by the Boston, centered fire on this ship and literally tore her to pieces. The admiral was slightly wounded and escaped in a small boat into Baker Bay and finally to Manila.

In the heat of the fight two torpedoboats moved out to attack the fleet. They were allowed to come within 800 yards when a fusillade from the Olympia sent one to the bottom with all on board, and riddled the other. The second boat was later found turned up on the beach covered with blood. In the second fight the Baltimore was sent to silence the fort at Cavite. She plunged into a cloud of smoke, and opened all her batteries on the fortifications. In a very few minutes, a shell struck in the ammunition and the fort blew up with a deafening roar. The work of the Baltimore was glorious. After the principal ships had been destroyed the Concord, Raleigh and Petrel, being of light draft, were sent close in to handle the remaining vessels of the fleet. They made quick work of them.

Several tugs and a large number of launches and small boats were captured. The vessels destroyed were three cruisers, eight gunboats and two torpedovessels. The series of fortifications at Cavite, a neighboring arsenal, and the fort on Corregidor Island at the head of the bay, were captured.

In taking possession of the land forts several h

fort on Corregidor island at the head of the bay, were captured.

In taking possession of the land forts several hundred wounded Spaniards fell into the hands of the Americans and nearly two hundred dead were accounted for on the spot. Holes in which numbers had been hastily buried were found. The dead were returned to relatives, as far as this could be done, and the wounded were cared for in the best manner by the American surgeons. The Spanish loss footed up 400 killed, 600 wounded and a property loss of anywhere from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000.

The day of the fight was clear and hot. Not a breath of air was stirring. After the first battle the Americans were greatly fagged by the heat, and the rest and breakfast allowed them by the commodore was of inestimable benefit. While the men were having breakfast, a conference of all the officers was held on board the Olympia, when the plans of the second battle were made known by the commodore.

Several shots struck the Olympia, and she was pierced a number of times, one shell struck the side of the ship against the hospital ward. The chaplain and nurses were watching the fight through a port a few inches away and were stunned by the concussion. Experts have figured out that the fighting volume of the guns of the respective sides in the battle was three for the Americans against seven for the Spaniards. It is clear then, that the superiority was in the ships and men themselves, the Americans having the experience and the nerve. Gunner Evans of the Boston was one of the men who sent the Spanish ships down to Davy Jones' locker. He directed the fire of one of the big guns on the cruiser. He was at all times greatly exposed, but did not received a shot. Not a man on the Boston received a scratch. Mr. Evans states that throughout the battle the fighting force of the Boston, and, in fact, all of the ships were as cool as if on a May-day pleasure cruise.

"The first engagement we had with the Spanish occurred on May 28, when we captured nineteen, with their arms and ammunition. Toward evening we hemmed them in. One hundred and ninety Cazefores and seventy loyal natives participated. We lost four killed. The Spaniards lost sixteen killed, including one officer. The result of this engagement was that fighting became general throughout the province of Cavite. After four days' fighting, over 2000 Spaniards were taken prisoners, including many officers and Gen. Leopoldo Pana, Governor of Cavite, who handed me his sword, revolver and golden belt and a formal letter of surrender."

"Dispatches from Manila say that Aguinaldo is doing splendid work. Monday of last week he routed the Spaniards, taking 400 prisoners, among them twenty-eight officers. On the Wednesday following he took fifty prisoners and four field pieces in a battle at a point between Cavite and Manila. On Thursday, when this dispatch left Manila, he had cornered 190 Spaniards in an old Church at Cavite, and not caring to bombard, he was starving them. He treats his prisoners well.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The press reports of the fierce fighting that has been going on in the Philippines between the insurgents and the Spanlards were read with the greatest in terest at the Navy Department, where the officials realize the very grave nature of the problem that confronts Admiral Dewey. The naval officers say that the administrative difficulties which Admiral Dewey must contend with are indicative of what may be expected by Maj.-Gen. Merritt, when he reaches the Philippines.

A complete understanding of the nature of the agreement that exists between Admiral Dewey and Chief Aguinaldo seems to be lacking here, but from the fact that some of the eports of the fierce fighting that press reports state that the insurgent leader is receiving the surrender of Spanish troops, and has preclaimed himself dictator pro tempore, it is in-ferred that Gen. Merritt's functions as military governor will be very lim-

LONDON. June 7.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Manila dated June 3, says:

"The Spaniards in the church in Old Cavite are still holding out, but the adjacent town of Imus has been captured by the insurgents. This is an important point at the back of Cavite proper, and its possession by the rebels is a serious matter for the Spaniards, because it is an outlet to the surrounding country, and through it supplies are brought to the city of Manila. It will also afford an admirable base of operations for a further advance toward the city.

"It has been found impossible to conceal from the inhabitants of Manila the fact that the insurgents' successes have cast a deep gloom upon foreign residents, who are more anxious than ever to get away. For the most part the men remain, but the women and children have been sent to Cavite, where they are safe under the Stars and Stripes.

"The most friendly relations exist between Admiral Dewey and the consular representatives of the powers and the commanders of European war-

Aguinaldo has issued orders that the lives and property of Europeans, Chinese and all Spanish noncombatants are to be protected, and all excesses are to be avoided."

AMENDMENTS OFFERED.
[ASSOCIATED PIESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, June 7.—Mr. Carter (Rep.) of Montana, in charge of the Census Bill, proposed an amendment providing that, in addition to the diproviding that, in addition to the director and assistant director of census and of five expert statisticians, not more than twenty-five persons shall be appointed to the census establishment before January 1, 1899. Mr. Cockrell (Dem.) of Missouri accepted this amendment in lieu of those offered by him yesterday, and it was agreed to. Mr. Cockrell offered an amendment striking out the provision that the census force should be subjected to such examination as the director with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe. In lieu thereof he proposed that the employes should be examined and certified by the Civil-Service Commission. Without passing upon the amendment, the Senate, at 5.66 o'clock, on motion of Mr. Gorman (Dem.) of Maryland, adjourned.

The resolutions allege the failure of the government to protect its rights, and requests the President to inform the House of the present status of the government's claims against the two roads, and to advise the House as to any proposed or contemplated action, and the reasons for delaying foreclosure on the Central Pacific and for postponing action in the matter of redeeming said railroads from the prior liens.

CABINET MEETING. The Entire Field Surveyed.

WASHINGTON, June 7 .- The Cable net meeting today was not particularly of military and naval operations was gone over, but nothing was done looking to any thange in policy or plans. It is almost certain that no regular troops have yet been dispatched to Santiago, but it is the intention to begin a heavy movement today or tomo gin a heavy movement today or tomorrow.

It has been the intention of the military authorities to have started the first expedition a day or two ago, but the non-arrival of the equipment of the large slege guns which it is proposed to use in the reduction of Santiago and the capture of Admiral Cervera's fleet, necessitated a short postponement. The transports are in perfect readiness for the embarkation of the troops, and nothing now remains that should occupy more than a day or two. The army of occupation will then be hurried forward and nothing will be permitted to interfere with the prompt invasion of Santiago and the capture or destruction of the imprisoned fleet.

In commenting upon the reports of a military engagement near Santiago, it was said after the Cabinet meeting that if there had been any collision it probably occurred between the Spaniards and a force of our marines who may have been attempting to land arms for the use of the insurgents.

No news of the Charleston was brought by the Belgic; at least nothing was given out to the Merchants' Exchange man, who went alongside as she entered the harbor, but it is generally believed that the mails will tell of the safe arrival of the big cruiser. At 10 o'clock this morning, the Merchants' Exchange received word from the Belgic that that vessel had sailed from Honolulu on June 1, and that the Charleston had arrived at Honolulu two days before, and was being coaled at the time of the departure of the Belgic. Great preparations were being at the time of the departure of the Belgic. Great preparations were being made at Honolulu for the reception of the troops, which were expected to arrive there on the day the Belgic left. The town has been beautifully decorated and a public reception was to be given the men on the troop ships.

HOFF'S EXECUTION STAYED. His Appeal to the Supreme Conr Was Perfected Yesterday. [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7 .- Alber weeks, perhaps months, has been ob tained by means of an appeal to the Supreme Court on alleged errors in the judgment of death.

The appeal to the Supreme Court was perfected today. Through Hoff's attorneys he filed before Judge Cook, at the opening of court this morning, formal notice of an application to the Supreme Court for a reversal of the judgment of the Superior Court.

By this appeal he will succeed in having reviewed the information upon which he was tried, the instructions of the court to the jury during the trial, and the final judgment of death. This appeal by operation of law will stay his execution until the case is passed upon by the Supreme Court. In all probability the Supreme Court will hear Hoff's appeal early in July.

Mill Burns at Eureka.

EUREKA, June 7.—A fire last night destroyed a mill on the water front owned by James Simpson and occupied by Gibbard & Mowry, as a molding mill and by Percy & Gibbard as a shingle mill. It is not known how the fire originated. The gas works just across an alley narrowly escaped destruction, being on fire, and were only saved by the active work of the fire department. The building was valued at $20,000 and was a total loss. Gibbard & Mowry's loss on the molding mill is estimated at $10,000, and Percy & Gibbard's loss on the shingle mill at $12,000. They will be provided with a bountiful lunch and delicate flowers. bountiful lunch and delicate flowers. Miss Fannie Wills and J. S. Slauson have prepared a menu for the boys that will long be remembered by them. Instead of the usual sandwiches, the soldiers will be treated to fresh rolls with separate rations of the best mutton that can be procured and roasted specially for their use. In addition about 250 gallons of delicious coffee and cream will be availing their arrival and for ially for their use. In addition about 250 gallons of delicious coffee and cream will be awaiting their arrival, and for desert, Judge Erskine M. Ross has dohated twenty boxes of the finest oranges from his ranch. The War Board and the Woman's Auxiliary together with the members of the Relief Corps will be in attendance to look after the distribution of the lunch and to extend to the soldiers the courtesies to which they are so thoroughly entitled.

In view of the fact that the expenses of the lunch can not be defrayed by the War Board from the moneys collected for the war fund, particulo citizens are requested to send flowers and delicacies to the Hall of Industry today.

Over one thousand bandages were finished yesterday by the different organizations assisting in the work of the War Board and it was decided to purchase fiannel for 500 additional bandages. The firm of Newmark, Brownstein & Louis generously donated the services of their employes to cut and arrange the articles.

The tickets for the War Board excursion to Terminal Island next Saturday will be for sale at the Hall of Industry and at the principal retail stores, commencing this morning. General Manager Hynes of the Terminal Railway will personally superintend the excursion, and nothing will be left undone to make the event worthy of its cause. A large number of people have signified their intention to take a day's opting and at the same time contribute their share toward the Los Angeles soldiers. The entire gross receipts will be applied to the war fund as everything in connection with the excursion has been placed at the disposal of the War Board free of charge.

CITY BOARD OF EDUCATION. Salaries of Teachers For Next Year Schools Close June 30

The City Board of Education tackled the salary question last night, and for nearly two hours wrangled over it. The meeting was called especially to consider plans for the Pico Heights ise, and the teachers' salaries. Mr. Conrey was the only absented when the board was called to order. when the board was called to order. The first thing presented was a plan submitted by the Building Committee for a building to be erected on Pico Heights. The plan is a duplicate, with some slight modifications to insure better light, of the Cambria and Second-street schoolhouses, and calls for a nine-room building instead of eight rooms. The plan was adopted and bids will be advertised for at once. This is necessary, because the board's lumber contract with the Stimson Lumber Company expires on July 1, and unless the lumber is ordered before that time it will cost at least $5 per thousand more than it does under the contract. Mr. Bragg thought the company would deliver the lumber after July 1, if notified how much was needed before that time, but matters will be hurried along so that no chances are taken of its failure to do so.

The sum of $125 was allowed Building Superintendent Strange for work done in altering the plans and super-The first thing presented was a plan

LIFE WAS A FAILURE.

Despondent Barkeeper's Rea for Committing Suicide.

Fancying himself ill-treated by his late employer, and believing life to be a failure, Marcus Franklin Smith committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas, Monday night. In order to make the motive for his rash act plain to all who might take an interest in his case, he left the following note, written in a neat, round hand: "My name is Marcus Franklin Smith.

he left the following note, written in a neat, round hand:

"My name is Marcus Franklin Smith. I was born in Sweden. Have been in United States thirty-one years; in this city one year two months. My last employment was five months in U. S. bar-room. The mistreatment of my employers is the reason why I take my self out of trouble, as I think I have had enough of it, and my life has been a failure for the last few years. Goodby to all."

Smith was discharged by Proprietor Althouse of the United States bar last Friday night, because, Mr. Althouse says, he detected Smith in the act of holding out 40 cents taken in over the bar, which should have gone into the cash register. Mr. Althouse says Smith was twice in his employ. The first time he discharged him for being cranky and surly to customers. He loafed about the place for some weeks after that, and then Mr. Althouse's brother put him to work again behind the bar.

Smith was very despondent after his discharge. He applied at several saloons for work without success. Monday evening he borrowed 50 cents from a friend, regaled himself with a plate of chile con carne at a street restaurant, then rented a room at the Pledmont House for the night and proceeded to make way with himself. He did this in the following manner:

Fastening a rubber tube to a gas get he lay on the bed and took the other end of the tube in his mouth. Thus he flooded his lungs with gas, and no doubt succumbed speedily to the noxious stuff. A chambermaid detected the odor of gas coming from the room about 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Police Officer George was called to investigate. He forced open the door and found the victim dead.

The body was sent to Bresee Bros.' morgue, where the Coroner will hold an inquest today. So far as known, Smith had no relatives here.

VICTIM OF ALCOHOL.

Fred D. Farwell Dies in the Receiving Hospital. Fred D. Farwell, one of the two men who were arrested a few days ago for obtaining money under false pretences of Chinamen, died in the Re-ceiving Hospital yesterday afternoon, from the effects of alcoholism. Farwell was about 35 years old, and apparently a man of strong physique, but dissipation cut his caree apparently a man of strong physique, but dissipation cut his career short. Until recently he and C. O. Johnson worked for the City Directory Company. Subsequently they were arrested on the charge of bilking Chinamen by representing themselves as agents authorized to collect war tax. Farwell was suffering from delirium tremens when taken into custody. Yesterday morning his condition appeared to be much better and he was able to eat a good breakfast. In the afternoon he relapsed and died suddenly. The body was sent to Peck & Chase's morgue, where an inquest will be held today. Some acquaintances of the dead man stated yesterday evening that Farwell's grandfather is a retired lawyer at Fort Scott, Kan. The old gentleman, they said, is well-to-do and the grandson was his only heir. Orvis Renshaw, train-dispatcher of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway at Minneapolis, is said to have been a warm personal friend of the dead man. Both Renshaw and Farwell's grandfather have been telegraphed to ascertain whether they have any wishes in regard to the disposition of the remains.

L. E. Aubury, the assayer, is minus an $8 mining directory, through an alleged advertising agent, claiming to represent the Western Mining Directory Company of Denver, Colo. Last week a man named Dunbar called at Mr. Aubury's office on First street, soliciting his advertisement for the Western Mining Directory. Mr. Aubury decided he was carrying all the advertisements he cared to at present and declined to enter into a contract. A few days later Dunbar again called and renewed the proposition, which was again refused. Later in the day he came into the office, asking Mr. Aubury for Poole Bros.' Mining Directory, which had just been received, and it was handed him. After looking through the book a few minutes, Dunwhich had just been received, and it was handed him. After looking through the book a few minutes, Dunbar asked to be allowed to take the book to his room for a few hours. To this a demurrer was entered, but finally he persuaded Mr. Aubury to loan it until night. He took the book, and since that time the owner has seen neither the man nor book. It is understood he played the same game with another firm of assayers.

The Simpson Tabernacle Foreclosed Curious Status of the Marie Garcia Case—A Horsey Case in Department Three.

The final ordinance ordering that he election of fifteen freeholders who are to draft a new city charter, to be held July 8, was adopted so late as to make it impossible for the can-didates to be selected in convention. The law provides that conventions to nominate such candidates shall be held thirty days before the election. All candidates will have to be nomi nated by petitions, which must be filed fifteen days before the date set for the election and such petitions must bear signatures to the number of at least three per cent of the total vote at the last general elections.

The foreclosure suit of B. F. Porter against the San Fernando Improvement Co., et al., that came before Judge York yesterday, was strongly reminescent of the old days. The lands conveyed aggregated nearly 20,000 acres, and the amount that will revert under the payment rendered yesterday will be about 12,000 acres.

The hitch in the trial of Marie Garcia will in all probability give rise to some nice points of legal argument. In pleading "once in jeopardy" an issue was raised, and it is an open question whether it remained an open one for the jury's consideration, or was waived by the action of the defense.

In the trial of Dan McMahon for

In the trial of Dan McMahon for robbery, too, a curious point arose yesterday when the prosecuting witness stated that upon being held up he did as he was told but was not afraid. Fear is the essence of the robbery charge, and without it the crime dwindles into one of larceny. The financial difficulties that have troubled the Simpson church culminated yesterday in a suit instituted to foreclose the property for an indebtedness of over $25,000.

(AT THE CITY HALL) TO CHOOSE GOOD MEN.

FREEHOLDER NOMINEES CANNOT BE CHOSEN BY PETITION,

Ticket Already Started-Police to Reduce the Crib District-Anther Boulevard Change.

All non inees whose names are to be placed on the tickets voted for at the special election July 8, at which fifteen freeholders are to be selected to draft a new city charter, must be chosen by petition. Convention nomi nations, such as were contemplated two months ago when the matter was first agitated, are now impossible, for no nomination made in convention would be legal. The time is too short for action by convention unless such convention was held today, and that is out of the question.

This condition of affairs was discovered yesterday by Assistant City Attorney Crutcher, whose attention was called to the action of the City Council Monday in adopting the final ordinance of election and maming July 8 as the date of the election. He found upon examination into the matter that the law provides that all nominations by convention for such offices as those to be filled at the coming election must be made at least thirty days prior to the election. The date selected is thirty days from today, and it is, of course, out of the question to make the nominations today. This provision is contained in section 1187 of the election law, This condition of affairs was discov-but the following section provides a means whereby the nominations may be made without resort to conventions, political or otherwise. The nominations may be made by petition, which must be filed with the City Clerk within fitteen days of the election. These petitions must bear the signatures of at least 3 per cent, of the total vote cast at the last general election. The residence of each rigner of the petition must be stated and an affidavit by the person securing the signatures, that must be stated and an affidavit by the person securing the signatures, that they are bona fide, must be made a part of the petition. Several months ago, prior to the adoption by the City Council of the ordinance of intention for the election, a movement was started to nominate freeholders whose names were to be placed on the ticket. The effort was not political on its face, but there was behind it a plan intended to secure the election, without opposition if possible, of a ticket so divided among the political parties as to make it really a partisan list of candidates. The effort was not continued to a successful termina-ical parties as to make it really a partisan list of candidates. The effort was not continued to a successful termination, and since then but little has been done in the matter, and no conventions were held.

The inability now to make convention nominations removes politics from the matter, and has made room for a citizens' ticket, to nominate which steps have already been taken. A number of well-known business men who have the interests of the city more at heart than the consummation of any political plan, have already begun a movement by which they hope to place before the people as nominees fifteen citizens whose known ability and integrity will commend them to all the taxpayers.

This movement has only been started, and, as yet, it has not assumed definite shape, but it is known that politics will not be an element in the selection of the candidates. The list will first be prepared and then incorporated in a petition, copies of which will be placed in the hands of well-known people for circulation. No difficulty is exected in the efforts to secure a sufficient number of signatures.

That there will be two tickets is considered certain, for a number of politicians and political organizations will oppose the movement, for the reason that such an opportunity to create berths for themselves and their friends under the city government is not to be

Commissioner Preuss called attention to the disgraceful actions of a gang of hoodlums at East Los Angeles Park last Sunday. He said a crowd of young men made the visit to the park unpleasant for a number of citizens. Water Overseer Casey, in describing the actions of the crowd said that they should have been arrested. The commission thought the matter properly belonged to the Board of Park Commissioners, as there are several policemen in the employ of the park department and no regular policemen are assigned there. The attention park department and no regular police-men are assigned there. The atten-tion of the park board will be called to the matter at its next meeting. Chief Glass stated briefly a number of incidents of his trip to Milwaukee, where he attended the annual meeting of the National Association of Chiefs of Police. The Chief is a member of the board of governors of that or-ganization, and was shown every courtesy by the other chiefs, most of whom he knows well.

Mayor Snyder called the attention of the board to the matter of the regular inspections of the police department. inspections of the police department. He favored a quarterly inspection which would be thorough in every detail. The other members did not take the same view of the matter, claiming that the monthly inspections had a good effect upon the department. It was finally decided that the monthly inspections shall continue, but there shall also be a thorough inspection every three months.

ANOTHER CHANGE, asadena Boulevard Will Probably Run Along Mission Road. Another change in the route of the proposed Pasadena boulevard is con-templated, by which it is supposed that a considerable reduction in the cost of street, and thereby save taking certain residence property, the cost of which would add to the expense. Objection was then made by the Southern Pacific Company to the proposed route on account of its including a portion of a large tract owned by that company near Missouri road. There the company owns, under the title of the Pacific Improvement Company, a tract of table land intended to be used at some future time as a coal dump by the railroad company. It is claimed by the company that no other land is available for this purpose, and if the boulevard is cut through it, the railroad will come in for a good share of the damages. If the route is changed so as to run the boulevard along Mission road and therefore along the edge of the railroad land, the company has asserted its willingness to pay a reasonable assessment instead of demanding damages.

"We, the members of the Turnverein Germania earnestly protest against any disturbance of the newly-laid pavement on Main street, as contemplated by the Los Angeles Electric Company, for the purpose of laying their underground wires.

"We think that the property-owners of that thoroughfare, who have or will have to pay for the expensive paving done are the only ones to be consulted in a case where a private corporation intehds to tear up and thus spoil the pavement.

Rule No. 32 says: "Crossing a line of hose in use is, except in case of absolute necessity, strictly prohibited."
Rule No. 40 is as follows: "Any act or omission of any member of the department which impedes, injures or hinders or tends to impede, injure or hinder the discipline, progress or welfare thereof, and any and all violations of the rules and regulations, not otherwise provided for, shall be punished by suspension or dismissal, as the Board of Fire Commissioners may elect."
The posting of this bulletin is the result of the actions of some few of the firemen at the recent fire on Los Angeles street. A number of the firemen went to the fire without their badges, and had difficulty in passing the ropes stretched by the police. The bursting of a number of sections of hose was said to have been due to driving over them by drivers of apparatus which arrived in response to the second and general alarms.

The most serious matter to which the attention of the commission was called was that one or two of the firemen shirked their duties and went into the crowd during the fire and remained there, failing to assist the others in the hard work of handling the hose,

LARGE LAND DEAL,

TWELVE THOUSAND ACRES RE VERT TO B. F. PORTER.

the Southern Pacific Put in Improvements Without Holding Deeds to the Land.

Another relic of the boom time loomed up in Department Three yester-day in the foreclosure suit of B. F. Porter against the San Fernando Valley Improvement Company, the Los An-geles Construction Company and twenty-four other defendants, to foreclose over twelve thousand acres of fine land in the vicinity of Chatsworth

During the halcyon days of the boom all kinds of schemes—good, bad and in-different—were worked off successfully upon a long-suffering public. But at by the members of the commission, and future promotions in the department that time the large tracts of land were broken up and disposed of to incoming settlers, and excellent work was done in that direction. In May, 1887, Porter entered into a contract with F. C. Howes, W. B. and W. F. Barber and G. R. Crow, for the sale of all of his interest in the Rancho ex-Mission of San Fernando. The land had not been surveyed, but it was approximately estimated that the tract contained about twenty thousand acres, and for hat time the large tracts of land were about twenty thousand acres, and for this $500,000 was to be paid. Later, when the survey was made it was found that so that the exact price of purchase was $485,439, or at the rate of $25 per acre. In July, 1887, the original purchasers conveyed their interest to the San Fer-nando Improvement Company, and from thence on for some years large blocks of land were disposed of to set-tlers. The payment of the purchase was spread over four years, but boom burst, and for a time real estate values declined, and business stagnated. In October, 1892, there was a very large balance still owing to Porter, but an amicable arrangement payment was extended. But affairs drifted on and payments could not be made until September, 1897. When the present suit was instituted, there re-mained due $257,613.43, and for that amount, with accruing interest at 6 per cent., Porter obtained judgment yester-day, the defendants being allowed sixty days within which to pay, and, failing to do so, their interest in about twelve thousand acres of land will be fore-tions in this large land deal was one to which the Southern Pacific Railroad Company was a party. At Chatsworth Park the company built about a mile and a half of track, put in switches, and built a two-storied depot, all of which has been of immense convenience and benefit to the ranchers down there. But the company did all this without having a deed, or ever a scray of writing, to any of the land upor placed. How the Barbers contrived to get the Southern Pacific to give so much without getting anything in re-turn has been a puzzle.

A Claim for Pasturage Met With

A sporty kind of case is being tried at present in Department Three. The suit was brought by J. A. Macdonald and George Duffy against J. Nelson Smith, and Therin and Della Smith, to recover certain moneys for pasturage of stock.

It is claimed that on October 3, 1896 the defendant delivered to the plaintiffs

It is claimed that on October 3, 1896, the defendant delivered to the plaintiffs infecteen head of horses and one mule, and since that time they have been on the ranch rented by the plaintiffs from Campbell & Henry, and which is part of the Los Coyotes Rancho. The amount claimed for pasturage is 243.814, but just how the three-quarters of a cent comes in has not been yet shown.

In addition to that claim there is a second cause of action in a claim for pasturing other miscellaneous stock, of the aggregate amount of 371.15, and to satisfy these two claims the court is asked to order the sale of the stock, the proceeds to be applied in satisfaction of the claim.

The defendants, however, set up a counter-claim, charging that the plainiffs are indebted to them for $210, and the difference between that amount and the amount claimed they have been willing to pay. They claim that a valuable mare and colt were injured, and afterward allowed to starve, and another valuable animal was permitted to injure itself on a wire fence, and then was neglected in such way as it make it useless.

Evidence in substantiation of these several allegations was put in yesterday, and the further hearing will be continued today.

MARIE GARCIA'S-LUCK.

Trial Rather Entangled by Legal Complication.

Marie Garcia may have to stand up and take her sentence for the man-slaughter of Charles Collins at Santa Monica, but as things stand at present it looks very much as if she will not be called upon to go through such an unpleasant experience—at least, not un-til she has been retried.

When not referring to us politely as "pigs," the Spanish are fond of asserting that Americans are a nation of shopkeepers, and that our soldiers and sailors will not fight. In reply to this calumny, it is only necessary to point to the heroic action of the seven American seamen, commanded by Lieut. Hobson, who cheerfully went to face what appeared to be certain death, at Santiago de Cuba. There did not appear to be one chance n a hundred that any of them could survive, and their almost miraculous escape rom death was as gratifying as it was surprising. When we remember, in addition to this, that no less than 4000 men in Sampson's fleet were anxious to take part in this deed one of them actually stowing himself away in order to join the party, we certainly need not conourselves with any taunts in regard to the courage of Americans whether they come from Spain or from other quarters. Whenever dar ing deeds are spoken of, the gallant action of this little band of patriots will be classed along with the stand made by the Greeks at Thermopylae and the daring charge of the light brigade at Balaklava. There will be plenty of music, colored fire, flags, bunting, speechmaking, singing and visitors to witness this display. The majority of the Citizens' Committee started out yesterday morning and will report progress at the next meeting of the Executive Committee on Friday. A communication is to be sent to Superintendent of Streets Drain and the Alcatraz Paving Company, asking their coöperation in preparing the streets now torn up so that the parade may pass along them without hindrance. The Los Angeles Railway Company will stop all electric cars along the streets through which the parade is to pass during the time it is in motion.

The La Fiesta Committee of Thirty The La Fiesta Committee of Thirty met yesterday afternoon and turned over to the Fourth of July Celebration Committee the twelve floats prepared for fiesta this year, together with all the trappings and equipment for horses and men. These will be remodeled by Ad Petsch for a patriotic display. Any societies or organizations wishing to secure floats are requested to address Chairman F. K. Rule at headquarters in the Bryson Block before Friday next. These floats will be turned over to such societies at a reasonable rate covering the expense for making changes. No advertising of any character whatsoever will be allowed on the floats or in the procession. Chairman Petsch will give his designs next Friday at the meeting of the Executive Committee.

Another interesting feature of the parade decided on yesterday at the Committee meeting is the Indian Rand of twenty-six pieces from Perris. This band plays all the latest music, and it is suggested that it lead the revolutionary war display division in the procession. A mandolin club of eighteen Indian girls from the same school will be brought here to take part in the exercises to be given in behalf of the children.

Prof. Foshay met with the committee yesterday when an informal talk was had regarding the entertainment for the children. A special committee is to be appointed, with Prof. Foshay as chairman, to handle this branch of the exercises under direction of the Committee on Literary and Orators. A communication is to be sent to the Board of Education, asking it to assist by requesting principals of schools, who will be in the city on that day.

Some of the schools have companies formed, and well drilled. These will be given a place in the procession. The only thing that now remains is to find some place adequate to accommodate the growd of children during the exercises. Prof. Foshay estimates that 14,000 or 15,000 school children will be on hand. At the meeting there will be speeches, and singing by the children of patriotic airs. An invitation will be sent by the grand marshal to the boys who have formed companies to take part in the parade.

As investigation is made into the circumstances surrounding the murder of the Chinese laundryman the belier becomes stronger that Hunter was on a drunk at the time of the tragedy, and had no part in it. Downey Divorce Presenting Ex-ceptional Features.

A divorce case came to trial in Judge Shaw's department yesterday that re-vealed circumstances of exceptional orutality, and far more than ordinary suffering on the part of the wife. Melissa A. Fisk was seeking a divorce from Stuart A. Fisk the, grounds being extreme cruelty and desertion. The parties were married at Downey in September, 1895, and very shortly after the union the husband began to abuse his wife. And on the most frivolous pretexts would he vent his spleen upon her, revilling her and not infrequently striking her. On one occasion when Mrs. Fisk was ready to start for church her liege lord ordered her to remain at home, and as he became enraged he struck her. Several times he told her that he would "wipe the floor with her," but the malignity of his disposition was only made fully apparent at the time of her confinement. Mrs. Fisk felt very ill, and asked her husband to go for the doctor, but he refused. She then begged him to take her to her father's house, but he brutally told her to go there herself if she wanted to. All alone, and in pain the wife started off at 4 o'clock in the morning for her father's place. It was about half a mile away, and when she reached there she was thoroughly exhausted, but within the hour her baby was born.

Later on the husband remained away from home, and from August 31, 1897 to February 13, 1898, his wife saw nothing of him. In the early part of the present year he went away and has not returned since. The decree prayed ng extreme cruelty and desertion. The parties were married at Downey in ISABELLA GOES UP. The pleasant-faced young colored girl. Isabella Knowise, convicted of oburglarizing a house at Covina, was brought before Justice Smith yesterday for sentence. Her counsel made a motion for a new trial, basing it particularly on the ground that the District Attorney had put questions to the defendant, while she was testifying in her own defense, for the express purpose of prejudicing the minds of the jury. The court conceded that the Supreme Court had passed very severe stricture upon such methods of examination, and held that in the case at bar the evidence had been so plain that the interests of the defendant had not been damaged, and for that reason denied the motion. Being asked if she had any legal reason why sentence should not be passed Isabella poutingly replied: "I'm not Being asked if she had any leads son why sentence should not be passed Isabella poutingly replied: "I'm not guilty, and I think the other girl (Rowena Washington) just as much in it as I am." The court did not argue the point, but sentenced her to San Quentin for two years.

TO BE TRIED AGAIN. R. L. Barr, the fake mining man, who was convicted on Monday in Department One of having passed a fictitious check, was brought up yesterday to plead to having obtained money under false pretenses from N. Vallin. Having entered his plea of not guilty, his case was set for trial on the 23d inst.

AMICABLY SETTLED. The child which Mrs. Farnum has been seeking to recover from Mrs. G. Durfee on habeas corpus proceedings was yesterday, by stipulation, given with the older child into the case of Mrs. Farnum's mother, who lives at Calabasas. The father was willing to support them there, but would not permit them to be with their mother when she lived in Los Angeles separate from him.

TO STRIKE OIL. The Richfield Oil Company yesterday filed articles of Incorporation with a capital stock of $500,000, divided into 50,000 shares, and of this amount $5000 has been subscribed. The directors named are G. Easton, San Francisco; G. W. Parsons, W. L. Valentine, L. Phipps and G. D. Easton, all of Los Angeles. The purposes of the organization are to acquire oil bearing lands, drill wells, and produce crude petroleum and other mineral substances; to construct, manage and own oil tanks and pipe lines for the storage, sale and delivery of the same.

A CHILD'S ADOPTION. J. N. Hehn and Emma B. Helm have filed their pe-tition asking that they be permitted to adopt as their own child Henrietta Ber-tha Johnson, an infant aged 7 years. More than twelve months ago the par-ents of the child abandoned it, and their present whereabouts is unknown.

To QUIET TITLE. A suit has been begun by Emil Staub against A. J. Sherer to quiet title to lot 4 of the Corbin subdivision of the Santa Cruz tract. On May 22, 1896, the plaintiff purchased the property from Robert Sherer, who was then seized and possessed in fee, and obtained a deed of conveyance. The said deed was on May 23, delivered to the defendant, only acknowledged by Robert Sherer, and certified for record. A few days later, acting on the advice of A. J. Sherer, who is near kinsman of plaintiff and an attorney, delivered to him the deed for safe keeping. It remained in his possession until December 30, 1897, when plaintiff obtained it and filed it for record. Thereafter the defendant, knowing the contents of the deed, obtained from Robert Sherer, his brother, a deed of conveyance to himself under date of June 18, 1897, and this deed was also recorded. On the strength of this instrument defendant is laying claim to the property, and clouding plaintiff's title.

A CATHEDRAL WEDDING. Bishop Whipple's Granddaughter

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] FARIBAULT (Minn.,) June 7 .of the most charming weddings that Faribault people ever witnessed cured at high noon today in the cathe dral, being the marriage of a grand-daughter of Bishop Whipple, Miss Jane Whipple Scandrett, to Russell Ross Burt of Los Angeles, son of Pres-ident Burt of the Union Pacific Railroad. The ceremony was performed by the bride's grandfather. A large number of friends of the groom came on a special train from Los Angeles. An elaborate dinner was served at the bishop's residence. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers. Many prominent citizens wit-nessed the ceremony.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—There was a stabbing affray late tonight in the Italian quarter, which may result in the death of two people. Santina Guido, residing on Broadway, was engaged in a fierce altercation with his wife, when her brother, a young man named Pellegrini, interfered. Guido stabbed Pelligrini five times inflicting wire, when her brother, a young man named Pellegrini, interfered. Guido stabbed Pelligrini five times, inflicting wounds which are likely to prove fatal. Mrs. Guido threw herself beween the two men in an attempt to prevent a murder, and her engaged husband turned on her and slashed her so se-verely her life is also despaired of.

Jack Foley was arrested late last night for battery. His specific offense is in biting the fingers of Con Casey's hand nearly off. The latter claims Foley asked him for money, and because he did not have it to give, he was assaulted and bitten. Foley was put in a cell, and Casey was taken to the Receiving Hospital.

W. D. Castle gave a patriotic chalk talk at the Young Men's Christian Association last evening, which was enjoyed by the large number of persons present. Mr. Castle used colored crayons and rapidly drew pictures of the monitor Merrimac, the bombardment of Fort Sumter, the Spanish snake and illustrations of other war themes.

Weather Conditions.—The pressure has fallen generally west of the Missouri River during the past twenty-four hours. A trough of low barometer extends from Arizona through the interior of California to the Sacramento Valley. This condition is causing an indraught of cool, moist winds from the ocean, which are producing cloudy weather with fogs in the coast sections. The temperature ramains stationary. Cool weather continues in Idaho, where light frost occurred during the night.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Cloudy weather tonight with fog; partly cloudy Wednesday. SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—For Southern California: Fair Wednesday; fresh westerly

Weekly Crop Bulletin.—The early part of the week was cool, with some cloudiness, an occasional morning fog in the coast sections and light showers of rain in places. The week closed with a hot "norther" and sandstorms in the interior valleys. The coof, damp weather the earlier part of the week was favorable for beans, hay and root crops, but the succeeding hot days were very injurious to all green growth and greatly offset the benefit derived from the recent rains. The high winds caused some damage to orchards in places by breaking branches of trees and knocking off fruit. The warm weather caused hay to ripen rapidly, and mowing is in full operation, but with a light yield. This is greater than was expected previous to the late rains. Oranges and lemons promise well, except in some localities, where the fruit is not up to expectations. Alfalfa is doing well. The third crop is growing on some non-irrigated fields.

Some days ago the local columns of The Times contained an account of the destruction by fire of the home of an aged couple at Vermont avenue near Seventeenth street, Niergard by name, leaving them entirely destitute, both being severely burned. Mrs. Florence of Montecito suggests to this paper that something should be done to aid these afflicted people and encloses a check for $20, which will be promptly applied to the purpose for which it is sent us. The Times will make the same application of any further sums that may be contributed toward this

There are only two streams in Los Angeles county where good trout-fish-ing may be had, and in those streams the sport has been much spoiled by the large number of amateurs who crowd into the cafions and destroy more fish than they have any use for. The close season for trout-fishing has been from April 1 to November 1. At the instance of the Creel Club the Board of Super-visors has changed the close season, making it from June 15 to April 1, 1899. for one year. It is believed that if this regulation is kept up for a couple of years it will give the trout a chance to increase, so that the streams will be well stocked again.

Sound sense is talked by the Fresno Republican on the question of army raisins. It says: "If the government makes the unnecessary qualification that raisins for rations shall be seedless, it will be a matter of considerable importance to the local industry that Fresno has facilities for making all varieties of raisins seedless. The fine fat muscats are just as seedless as the pretty little sultanas after they have through the machines." Yes, and they beat them in a walk in their quali-ties of flavor and nutrition. The mus-cat raisins of Central California are the finest in the world.

As the Oakland Tribune says: "Those who thought the recent rains came too late to be of much benefit to the farmers can be agreeably surprised by reading the official crop report for the California division. It shows that good pasture land is now assured all over the State and that the grain has freshened up so remarkably that the yield will be fairly good. The second crop of fruit will be large, vegetables are plentiful, in fact, everything agri-cultural is doing well. The item of good pasturage alone means hundreds of thousands of dollars to the stockmen of California, for things were looking pretty blue for them just before the showers started up."

The boys at Camp Merritt would appear to have a special need of the tender ministrations of those regimental matrons provided for in a bill recently introduced in Congress at the request of a number of worthy ladies. The duties laid down for these mothers of the ties laid down for these mothers of the regiment are to "mend, darn, wash the clothing and see to the sanitary condition of the men of their respective commands." This surely promises relief for the ple-laden braves bound for Manila, as well as immunity from future dangers to the sanitary condition of their tummies. With a regiment of their tummies. With a regimental mother to administer mustard plasters and paregoric at critical moments, and to replace the buttons annexed by the insatlable girl, an orphan asylum wouldn't be in it with the camp for all

Adolph Voegler, editor of the Western Druggist, is quoted as follows: "It cannot be made too emphatic that the ordinary water filter of whatever pattern does not exclude disease germs; it clarifies the water of gross impurities, thus rendering it pleasing to the eye, that is all. Bugs, weeds and clay are not breeders of disease when ingested. It is the unseen microbes of the pathological variety that may swarm from any source in water as clear as diamond that do the mischief. There are in the market certain expensive microbeproof filters, but even those may prove a delusion and a saare, for every filter of whatever kind eventually will prove a hotbed for the multiplication of microbes if not sufficiently often renovated." #### Events in Society.

The wedding of Miss Louise Lazard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Lazard, to A. Jacoby, at the Temple last evening was another brilliant affair of the season, and was attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rabbi Solomon. Mr. Stevenson pre-Rabbi Solomon. Mr. Stevenson presided at the organ and played the march from "Lohengrin," "O Promise Me," and the "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn. The altar platform and organ loft had been handsomely decorated under the direction of Mrs. Bancioft, with quantities of tulle and festoons of white gauze, caught in the beaks of doves. The slender green leaves of the tulle were massed in a low hedge across the front of the platform, and at the sides, and above the center, beneath a huge love knot of gauze, was suspended a large bell formed of white flowers. The bridal party was led by the four ushers, Messrs. Sylvain A. Lazard, Mortimer S. Lazard, Leo Jacoby and Fred Kremer, followed by the little ring-bearer, Ross Lewin, nephew of the bride, escorted by little Walter Jacoby. The bridesmaids, the Misses Adele Louis, Rose Newmark, Lyela Jacoby, Rose Loeb, Etta Jacoby and Hortense Levy, were all in light organdles over colored sliks, and carried clusters of pink or white sweet peas. The two little flower girls, Rita and Irma Jacoby, nieces of the groom, wore frocks of white chiffon over white silk, and carried baskets of rose petals. The maid of honor, Miss Agnes Kremer, was gowned in white lansdowne over pink silk, and carried La France roses. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white silk poplin. The trailing skirt was perfectly pialm, and the waist was made with unlined sleeves and yoke of shirred chiffon, the latter finished with a fall of point lace. Her long tulle vell was fastened with a diamond pin, the gift of the groom, and she carried a bible bound in white. The bride's mother was escorted by the groom, and the bride herself, by her father. E. J. Louis assisted as best man, and tegroom, and ster, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Jacoby, The ceremony was followed by a reception at the Lazard residence on West Seventh street, at which about one hundred and fifty guests were present. Music was furnished by Lowinsky's Orchestra, and the supper was served at tete-a-tete tables under the direction of Christopher. The rooms had

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holliday gave a theater party at the Orpheum last evening, followed by a supper ot Levy's, in honor of their guest, Mrs. J. J. Meyler of San Diego. The other guests were Mrs. Victoria Harrell, Miss Owen, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Jones, Messrs. W. G. Barnwell, Holterhoff of Cincinnati and W. M. Garland.

Mrs. Frederick C. Howes gave a charming luncheon yesterday at her residence on West Twenty-eighth street. The guests were Mmes. Burdette Chandler, Earl B. Millar, I. W. Van Nuys, J. H. Norton, John T. Jones, A. H. Naftzger, W. S. Hook, J. G. Mossin, Victoria Harrell, Modini-Wood and Miss Dean of San Francisco. The decorations of the round table were exceedingly artistic, the centerplece being an immense bowl overflowing with masturtiums and resting upon a beautiful piece of Battenberg lace over nasturtium-green silk. The chandelier was massed with asparagus ferns and smilax, and the place cards, which were decorated with sepia sketches, were attached to ribbons of nasturtium-green. The other rooms were also decorated with a profusion of flowers, sweet peas in the reception hall, carnations in the drawing-room and roses in the library. An amusing feature of the luncheon was the guessing of the seeds in a red pepper. The first prize, a framed water-color sketch, was won by Mrs. Jones, and the consolation, a Beleek cup and saucer, by Miss Dean.

The board of managers of the Los Angeles Orphans' Home and a few other friends were delightfully enter-tained yesterday by Mrs. Dodsworth other friends were delightfully entertained yesterday by Mrs. Dodsworth, a former member of the board and Miss Martha Dodsworth, at their ranch home in Azusa. The guests were met at the station with carriages and given a pleasant drive before the luncheon. The spacious rooms of the large ranch house were filled with masses of La France roses, and other flowers. The luncheon was served in a pretty glen near the house, amid ferns and trees and within sound of a running brook. The decorations were confined to flags which were arranged about the tables and festooned among the trees. Patriotic songs were sung with much spirit, and at the close Mrs. Dodsworth made an impressive speech, dwelling on the responsibility and importance of the personal influence of the board toward the children of the Home and the necessity of setting them an example for good. Those present were Mmes. D. G. Stephens, William Ferguson, J. Brousseau, J. S. Chapman, R. L. Craig, Rose Hagan, W. M. Hamlin, W. G. Kerckhoff, W. W. Murphy, N. W. Stowell, R. H. F. Variel, A. E. The literary section of the Ebell was entertained by Mrs. William Mead Monday afternoon, at her residence on Pasadena avenue. Mmes. Will Knippenberg, J. B. Willard, Horace Perry and Sampson assisted. The diningroom, where a luncheon was served by Christopher, was decorated in lavendar, and the other rooms were pretty with carnations and potted plants. The veranda was inclosed and arranged as a punch-room. Papers on Rudyard Kipling were read by Mmes. Millard and Knippenberg, and there were readings from the author's works by Mmes. G. D. Ruddy, Ashley, H. B. Strange, and John Hunt. Among those who were there were Mmes. Ruddy. H. Fuller, Granville. Castor. W. A. Phelps, J. B. Millard, Whittaker, Frank Gordon, O. L. Ing upon this proposition, the Los Angeles Review says:
"Such an act would be monstrous, and if levied, for many years to come, be destructive of the wise, economical principle which savings banks inculcate in the minds of laborers. Interpose a revenue tax, and make those who have large revenues beyond their needs, contribute from their surplus to the country's requirements, and to the guarding and better safety of their abundant property, but let the poor man's earnings alone. He has tolled for what he has. Tax the rich man, who tolls not nor spins, but who every day in the week is attired in rahment that would have caused Solomon in all his glory to smash the decalogue into smithereens. The savings banks throughout the country may be relied upon to put forth every effort to defeat this edious measure, and they may rest assured that all right-minded working men will help them to do it."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

CANAIGRE. Canaigre is one of the new products that has been much boomed in this section during the past boomed in this section during the past few years. It is a plant which grows wild in large quantities throughout the southwestern part of the United States, the root of which has been used as a substitute of a tan bark, in tanning leather, an extract being made from the root.

The first attempt at utilizing this The first attempt at utilizing this material, on a commercial scale, in this country, was in New Mexico, where there is a factory for the working up of the root. Another company recently purchased or leased a large tract of land at Riaito, in San Bernardino county. An experiment in growing canalgre has also been made in the Salt River Valley, Ariz.*

In the United States Investor of May 28 appeared a long article on the canalgre industry. After giving some general description of the plant and its uses, the writer says:

general description of the plant and its uses, the writer says:

"There are now two factories organized to work this root, one being at Deming. N. M., the property of the Tanning Extract Company of Peoria. Ill., which has a capacity of fifteen tons of extract per day; the other belongs to the Anglo-American Canalgre Company of Rialto, Cal. This latter company's factory is just now being built, the foundations having been put in. It has an extensive plantation devoted to canaigre, its crop this year being about twenty-three bundred acres; it has been shipping the roots to a factory in New Jersey, where they have been reduced. Within a few months, however, its factory will be completed. This will be larger than the New Mexico factory, and in addition it will have a tannery with a capacity of 300 hides per day. The New Mexico factory is thus far been forced to grow, its own roots, for the reason that the farmers did not understand the plant, and have been slow to take hold of it; besides the labor was mostly that of Mexicans, and their services are very cheap; the company could raise the roots at a cost of their services are very cheap; the com-pany could raise the roots at a cost of about $2 per acre. It pany could raise the roots at a cost of about $2 per acre. It, however, does not desire to continue this on any wide plane, as I understand, but wishes to run the plant on somewhat the same arrangement as a sugar factory, where the beets are raised by farmers, who sell them to the factory.

"Charles B. Allaire, of the Deming factory, states that he is sure that the acid content of the root can be broughting to 15 per cent., if not higher, and points to the changes which culture and selection have made in the sugar-beet which started with root yielding 6 per cent. of saccharose, and has developed up to one containing 25 per cent. An average of eight tons an acre is as much as has been obtained thus far up to one containing 25 per cent. An average of eight tons an acre is as much as has been obtained thus far at Deming, but here again selection promises wonderful rewards. Indeed, what experiments have thus far been tried there show that almost marvelous results may be expected. Test tubers have been planted which have yielded twenty-two tons to the acre, and this after 22 per cent. was deducted for the weight of the seed roots used; while John H. Caruthers, of the Anglo-American Company, states that his acreage of roots, planted twenty months ago, will plow up twenty tons to the acre, and that he will get a ton of extract from every five tons of the roots. This extract sells for $90 per ton, and the price paid farmers who raise their own crops, is $10 per ton. The root is more profitable for them to raise than beets, for while the latter yield fifteen tons to the acre, yet they get but $4 a ton gor them, and they are much more difficult to produce than canaigre; they require to be cultivated a number of times during their growth, and besides this they must be thinned, a laborious and expensive operation, which canaigre does not require."

All this, however, is merely preparatory, as leading up to the main point of the writer, which is to show the large profits that may be acquired by investors in the canaigre business. He says:

"It is believed, however, that the investors in the canaigre business. He says:

"It is believed, however, that the price of canaigre extract will shortly stand upon the market at $60 per ton. At that figure it would drive all other tannins out of use, if the supply of canaigre were sufficient. At this price, however, the dividends to the capitalist investing in a factory would be great. If have been able to obtain the following inside figures of the situation at the Deming factory, which are of the highest interest to the capitalist hunting for a profitable industry in which to invest capital in large amounts:

Permanent investment—

to invest capital in large amounts.

Permanent investment—

3000 acres of land at $10 with waterright.

To clear and level same, $2.

To plant crop, irrigate, cultivate and and I have no doubt that the profits and I have no doubt that the profits in this industry are greater than those of the beet factory; and last year the Chino beet-sugar factory made a profit of $400,000 on a $700,000 investment. The industry, too, does not in any manner depend upon tariffs or other Congressional legislation. It can stand on its own legs, and does not ask any favors; the market for the product is unlimited, and it will be many years before competition between canaigre producers can in the many force down the profits."

All of this will be somewhat surprising to many people in this section

down the profits."

All of this will be somewhat surprising to many people in this section where it is generally understood that the canaigre industry has proved far from satisfactory. So far as the facts can be ascertained, there was a small margin of profit when the roots were gathered in a wild state, by Mexican or Indian labor, at about 50 cents a day, but this profit disappeared when it was attempted to cultivate the canaigre. Moreover, it is claimed that cultivation, instead of increasing the amount of tannin in the root, decreased it. It is understood that the enterprise in the Salt River Valley has been given up, and at last accounts, the Ralito enterprise was at a standstill. To compare such a problematical industry as this with the beet-sugar industry, which is established on a solid basis, as a permanently profitable industry, beyond any question of doub, is misleading. Under the circumstances, it would be well for those who have any idea of investing in the canaigre business to investigate very carefully before doing so.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The stock market whowed the same conflicting tendencies as for several days past, but the reactionary element gained the upper end during the afternoon and effected sharp declines all through the list, dislodging quite a large amount of stock, whing out the margins on which if was held. There was a significant period of dullness succeeding this redling, and then hegan a quiet and steady absorption of stocks, offerings being taken at the ruling prices with entire absence—of any effort to mark up quotations. It was wufferently evident that the purpose of the reaction was to secure stocks at the lower level. There was quite a lively commissionable of the control of

[ASSOCIATED PIERS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO June 7.—The Liverpool market, which has been steadily decilining for several days, was especially demoralized today, and reported a drop equal to 8½ cents per bushel in July and 4½ cents in September, with continental markets also lower. The crop outlook contained all that could be desired, with the grain in large areas ready for the reaper. The Kansas report for June shows the condition 103, the highest ever reported at this season of the year. The report set at rest the rumors about chinch bugs and rust. As a result longs quickly began to liquidate. There was urgent short selling, sales on stop-loss orders and on exhausted margins. Under the pressure the market went off rapidly. The rally which followed was due to the fact that many shorts were disposed to take advantage of the break to secure sprofits. This class of buying was sufficient in volume to cause a temporary reaction. The Atlantic exports were astonishingly heavy, amounting in wheat and flour to about 1.700,000 bushels. The total stocks in the world's visible as compiled by the Chicago Daily Trade Bulletin and Liverpool Corn Trade News is 106,000,000 bushels, against 107.000,000 a year ago. July closed 2 cents and September %c lower. Selling orders predominated in oats at the opening. A slight reaction took place at the close. July closed %c lower. SANTA ANA, June 7.—[Regular Correspondence.] The Santa Ana Board of City Trustees met last night in regular session. The Main-street saloon matter was disposed of by an opinion cendered by City Attorney Hesthman claiming that the board has the power to grant or refuse a license as they see fit. The case in point was that of Crabree & Knorr, who applied to the city for a license to open a saloon on North Main street, opposite the Newport Wharf and Lumber Company's office. The application was refused and the petitioners' attorney appeared before the board with the plea that they did not have discretionary power.

A petition from Frank Beamus, asking the board with the plea that they did not not set the grade sides for a redwood of the set of the Committee on Streets with power to act.

A communication from J. C. Joplin, withdrawing from H. A. Carske's saloon bond, was read and referred to the Committee on Streets with power to act.

Heretofore each class has presented the school a picture of an American author. Eight such pictures now adorn the walls of the assembly-room. Another important feature was the planting of a Sequola giganten by Fred B. Huffman, thus carrying out the precedent established last year. The exercises were closed by the class song. Prof. Irving Stringham of the State University at Berkeley was present as a guest of honor. DEATH OF MISS SMITH.

Miss Minnie Smith, aged 23 years, daughter of Supervisor Daniel A. Smith, of'sthe Ojai Valley, was buried at Nordhoff yesterday afternoon. She died Sunday of Bright's disease at the family residence. Miss Smith was a graduate of the Ventura High School, class of '96. She attended the Los Angeles Normal School from that date until last January, when, owing to ill health, she was compelled to give up her studies.

COMMITTED TO HIGHLAND.

Judge Oster this afternoon committed Alpha Wolfe to the Highland asylum, after hearing the testimony of her husband, Elmer Wolfe, and of Drs. I. N. Baylis and Henrietta C. Donnan. The Wolfes are residents of Chino, and have two children. Lately the woman has been violently insane, at times threatening to kill members of her family. On a recent occasion, she is alleged to have attempted to cut outer baby's tongue. Her husband seemed to be deeply attached to her, and broke down completely on the witness stand, and a most affecting scene ensued prior to Mrs. Wolfe's departure for the asylum.

the Supply.

POMONA, June 7.—(Regular Correspondence.) Notwithstanding the fact that a veritable building boom has been on here for a year, there is now a dearth of houses in Pomona, a condition very novel for this time of the year. The explanation of this condition can only be the rapid increase in population, though the increase is of a quiet nature, which has attracted little attention. Just now real-estate agents are having considerable difficulty in meeting the demand for houses. Rents, however, are not at a figure to encourage building of houses for renting, except in the choicest sections of fown, and the increase of houses must depend to a great extent on the erection of residences for occupation by their owners. This has been the striking characteristic of building operations here during the past two years, and a very large proportion of the people now own their own residences. A TALK WITH MRS. PINKHAM

About the Cause of Anemia · Everybody comes into this world with a predisposition to disease of some particular tissue; in other words, everybody has a weak spot.

In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the weak spot in women is somewhere in the uterine system. The uterine organs have less re-isstance to disease than the vital organs; that's why they give out the soonest.

Not more than one woman in a hundred—

BOWERS IS IN JAIL.

ALLEGED CONFIDENCE MAN PLACED BEHIND PRISON BARS.

terday Noon by a Detective and Positively Identified by His Victims Here-Refused to Make a Statement.

George D. Bowers, alias Leo Strauss who is wanted here on the charge of bilking several tailors and a hotel, was brought back to the city from Sacra mento, where he was captured. He arrived here at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in custody of the detective who arrested him. Milo M. Potter, manager of the Van Nuys, and W. O. Gilkey of Routzahn & Gilkey, tailors, called at the station in the afternoon and had a look at Bowers, or Strauss. Mr. Potter recognized him as the man who has so far falled to pay him about $100, which sum he claims is due him for board and lodging at the Van Nuys. Mr. Gilkey also identified the prisoner as the man who ordered a suit and overcoat from him, and for which he neglected to settle. In view of these identifications the police feel sure they will make a complete case against Bowers and have him sentenced. The prisoner yesterday accepted the volun-teered services of a lawyer to defend him.

Bowers is a man weighing 200 pounds of more. His clothes are of expensive material and excellent cut. He is stout and short of stature, with flabby cheeks that have not been shaved for several days, and incipient side whiskers. He appears to be between 35 and 40 years of age. He walked into the corffdor of the City Jail without collar and in shirt sleeves, in response to a card asking for an interview. He was asked if his name was Bowers, Strauss, Powell or otherwise, He looked steadily for a few seconds while he arranged his hands in the rear pockets of his trousers, and then replied: "I have no statement to make, my boy." He has an emphatic way of speaking, closing his eyelids until the eyes are nearly covered and emitting his words slowly and very clearly. He has an affectionate way of patting one on the back and saying: "Now, now, my boy, don't do anything you'll be sorry for." At parting he gave his assurance that he would clear himself of all the charges against him, "and then, my boy, my boy, I'll have something for the newspapers." The police do not think there is a likelihood that he will settle these cases out of court. So far as known there are unpaid bills against him aggregating about $300 or more.

The Sacramento police say that on the day he was arrested there he was trying to "turn a trick" on a wealthy merchant, the particular scheme in this instance being an alleged rich mining deal. He had beautifully-lithographed certificates of the stock ready to be interlined when a sucker was found. In his effects held here, as already stated, were found drafts perforated for various sums, so the police have no doubt about the purpose of the prisoner in this part of the country.

His arrest was effected rather peculiarly. Last week D. C. Spencer, now languishing in the County Jail, was arrested for alleged participation in a swindling scheme with A. B. Campbell, both supposed to be Bowers's pals. Spencer purposely dropped an express order for six satchels, while being taken to the station. One of th re found, proving that all of it was the baggage. Bowers will be arraigned for hearing lay. The charges very likely will be robtaining goods and lodging with tent to defraud. It is said Bowers ill make a strong fight to regain his perty, as he attempted to do in Sacmento, by habeas corpus.

Johnston's Last Chance.

Joseph Johnston, a youth who was detected in the act of stealing a lot tools from a second-hand store of tools from a second-hand store a few days ago, was given a thirty-lays' sentence for petty larceny yesterday, by Justice Morrison. Out of sympathys for the boy's mother, sentence was suspended during good behavior. Johnston comes of a good family, but has gone wreng. The court exhorted him to take this chance to reform, as the next downward step would land him in Whitt'er, if not in State's prison,
